GOOGLE SEARCH PLATFORM

We know it's competitive out there. That's why we use a data-driven approach mastered by actual humans that have a vested interest in making sure your campaigns perform at the lowest possible cost per click. No empty promises, only real results you can hold us accountable for. Fox Dealer uses a proprietary tool that blends Google Analytics and AdWords to provide automated recommendations on bid adjustments and optimizations (based on the KPI measurements above) and segments by geography. Our PPC team reviews these recommendations and implements via AdWords.

DATA STUDIO REPORTING

Empowering Your Dealership with More Data than the Other Guys

Fox's Data Studio Reporting features real-time data powered by APIs. Most providers only give impressions, clicks and page views. At Fox, we go further and report on how many clicks we got you and how many of those clicks were converted into phone calls and leads. That means we operate off the dollar amount of your average cost per customer contact, not only cost per click. Our monthly reviews take a consultative approach where we review tangibles and may discuss next steps and optimizations.
